NEWSROOM NOTES — The person who is convicted of a crime in Illinois may suffer more from the loss of his rights as a citizen than from his fine or imprisonment.

The Illinois Constitution provides that any person convicted of "bribery, perjury or other infamous crime" may not be elected to the "General Assembly or to any office of profit or trust in this State."

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, infamous crimes include arson, bigamy, forgery, incest, murder, rape, kidnaping, among others, provided that the punishment imposed upon conviction is imprisonment in a penitentiary.

Persons convicted, and imprisoned for such crimes, the law says: ". . . shall be forever thereafter rendered incapable of holding any office of honor, trust, or profit, or voting in any election, or serving as a juror, unless he or she is again restored to such rights by the terms of a pardon for the offense or otherwise according to the law."

The phrase "otherwise according to the law" includes court action reversing or setting aside the conviction.

In addition, a convicted person, at anytime after his conviction, may petition the governor for a restoration of his rights.

The person convicted of a felony — that is, any crime for which the punishment is a prison term — also loses his right to vote in any election. However, the governor or a court may restore such right by issuing a certificate of restoration.

Certain business and professional opportunities also may be forfeited by the person who is convicted of a felony or "crime rendering him infamous."

He may be refused a license to practice medicine or law. He may become ineligible to enlist or re-enlist in the Armed Forces. He may not serve as the executor of an estate or be licensed by the Illinois Liquor Control Commission. He is also likely to be denied bond by an insurance company.

Trudeau Takes Office Today

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister-elect Pierre Elliot Trudeau arrived at Government House today to officially take over Canada's minority Liberal government.

Trudeau, dressed in pinstriped trousers, black jacket and vest and a black and white silk tie, refused to talk to reporters as he entered the rambling home of Governor-General Roland Michener for the investiture.

Trudeau and Michener appeared briefly at the side door of Government House to pose for photographs. Again, Trudeau made no comment and after a few moments disappeared back into the building to await the arrival of retiring Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

Trudeau, who was elected Canada's 15th prime minister over eight over delegates April 6, was originally scheduled to take over the Liberal leadership Monday. Friday when it was announced the swearing-in ceremonies had been moved up 48 hours, speculation immediately arose over whether Trudeau was planning to call a national election.

Tornado Kills 13; Hundreds Are Injured

in a library, another state policeman said.

A search of the rubble resumed at dawn and workers feared that more dead and injured would be found.

The area was guarded through the night by about 30 Marine reservists from Texarkana, shifted from weekend training at nearby Ft. Chaffee, and some Air Force reservists.

Every building in the main building area, which is built on a square, was damaged.

Ambulances from several cities in the area converged on Greenwood to carry the injured to hospitals in Fort Smith, 18 miles north.

Bill Kennedy, a Forth Smith Times Record newsman, who flew over Greenwood two hours after the storm struck, said the path of destruction was about 200 feet wide and half a mile long.

The storm brushed through a residential area in southwest Greenwood before it slammed into the business district and then moved on to the northeast. Most of the dead were found in the first area hit.

Communications were knocked out and traffic jams developed on highways leading out of Greenwood, hampering rescue efforts.

The rampaging twister was spawned by a squall line that dumped rain on eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas late Friday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said tornadoes also struck near Waveland, Booneville, Dardanelle and Clarksville, all towns north and east of Greenwood, but the only deaths and injuries reported were at Greenwood.

No estimate of the property damage was available but the Weather Bureau said the twister was the most destructive Arkansas has seen since 1952 when a March storm leveled Judsonia in central Arkansas, killing 111.

'Declare War' North Korea Challenges

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) — North Korean infiltrators opened fire on a U.S. Army patrol south of the truce line today for the third time this week. North Korea blamed the incident on the Americans and challenged the U.N. Command to "openly declare war if you intend to provoke war."

The U.N. Command said one American and two North Koreans were wounded in the exchange of fire which it said started when a UNC patrol detected several Communist intruders four miles south of Panmumjom. The patrol was pinned down by a crossfire between the intruders and North Koreans north of the truce line.

North Korea immediately asked the U.N. Command for a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission where North Korean Maj. Pak Chung Kuk issued his "declare war" challenge. He accused the U.S. Command of continuous violations of the armistice agreement and said today's incident was an example.

"It is you North Korean Communist aggressors who have been exposed at this table as violators of the armistice agreement, purveyors of fraud and propaganda, creators of tension in Korea, aggressors who scheme and prepare to invade the Republic of (South) Korea but are frustrated by the presence of the UNC," the U.N. spokesman replied.

Thirteen persons were killed and more than 70 were hospitalized, State Police Capt. Damon Wilson said. Approximately 200 more were given emergency treatment at a first aid station in a library, another state policeman said.

Bulletin

It said the threat will continue until 3:45 p.m. CST.

Scattered severe thunderstorms with large hail and locally damaging winds were forecast.

The bureau said the greatest threat of tornadoes and thunderstorms is in an area along and 70 miles on either side of a line from 45 miles north of LaCrosse, Wis., to 70 miles southeast of Madison, Wis.

Delay Action On Landfill

ROCHELLE — The Lee County State's Attorney's office Friday temporarily stayed the filing of a petition seeking a permanent injunction against the Rochelle Sanitary Service and the city, prohibiting them from further use of the Reynolds Townships landfill.

The decision to file the petition came following a conversation between City Atty. David Guest and Assist. State's Atty. Kelly Kappler.

Guest told Kappler he will hold a conference with Robert Hultgren, lessee of the landfill, which is owned by the city, E. S. Oberlander, Lee County Sanitation officer, and a representative of the state's attorney's office, probably Tuesday.

Guest also sought the delay, according to informed sources, so that he might have time to consult with city officials at Monday's council meeting.

The Rochelle landfill was investigated some months ago by the state, and ordered to make certain corrections. These were made and the landfill was allowed to continue operation.

Last week, however, Lester Perkins, whose land adjoins the landfill property, complained to Oberlander and Lee County officials that the materials were being burned, and that waste matter was not being buried as is required by state law.

Oberlander turned the matter over to the state's attorney's office who had planned to file a petition for an injunction until Guest called.

Nixon Proposes Viet Political Moratorium

By OUR WIRE SERVICES

Although President Johnson's Vietnam policies continue to draw heavy fire from presidential aspirants in his own party, Richard M. Nixon, the only major Republican candidate has declared a moratorium on criticism on Johnson's war moves.

While Senators Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy continued to criticize the administration's war policies, Nixon promised Friday to stop taking shots at Johnson's war policies "as long as there is any hope of success" in achieving peace.

Nixon, speaking to a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, said Johnson was "the one man" who could bring peace in Vietnam, adding: "I am not going to do anything to undercut him until he has a chance to bring it about."

Nixon has won warm praise from the American Society of Newspaper Editors—a group that gave only perfunctory applause to Nelson A. Rockefeller the day before.

Editors interviewed at random following Nixon's Friday's appearance at the ASNE convention called the former vice president warm, witty and winning.

They voiced less kind words about the Thursday speech by Rockefeller, the New York governor and Nixon's potential rival for the Republican presidential nomination.

"Nixon made a much better impression here than Gov. Rockefeller," said Vermont Royster, editor of the Wall Street Journal. "I'm sure it's the sentiment of the editors generally—he was much impressive."

Nixon stood behind a lone microphone on a short, red-carpeted runway raised above the luncheon tables. The setting had the air of a night club performance—and, in show business parlance, he wowed them.

The editors interrupted with solid applause more than a dozen times. They laughed frequently at his jests and at the end they accorded Nixon a lusty and lengthy standing ovation.

In contrast, Rockefeller's luncheon address on urban problems Thursday was digested in silence. The audience rose at the start, but not the finish, when the editors accorded him lukewarm applause.

"Most editors with whom I've talked found it disappointing" said John S. Knight, publisher of the Miami Herald.

Nixon called for a moratorium on Vietnam criticism to give President Johnson a free hand while trying to settle the war. He criticized what he termed unrealistic promises on urban problems. And he called for budget cuts to protect the dollar. But it wasn't as much what he said as how he said it.

Royster, one of the four editors on a panel that quizzed Nixon, compared the candidate of 1968 to the nominee of eight years ago and said:

"His manner has become easier. He still uses the debating devices, but in a smoother, better polished way. He is more mature, less abrasive."

Nixon was asked to describe "the new Nixon." He began:

"The new Nixon is older. He perhaps has acquired—I would hope—some more wisdom."

Then he swept into a series of anecdotes, telling of a teen-age girls who asked him to autograph his picture and blurted out, "That's a wonderful picture of you, Mr. Nixon. It doesn't look like you at all."

In a two-minute reply to the question, Nixon had the editors

SESQUICENTENNIAL FLAG

500 Planes Hit North

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI) —A force of U.S. jet fighter-bombers estimated at 500 planes struck the southern regions of North Vietnam Friday with the heaviest bombardment of the year, U.S. military spokesman said today.

Clearing weather permitted the U.S. Navy, Marine, and Air Force planes to swarm against communication targets in the panhandle region in record size for the second consecutive day.

The 160 missions, each involving three to five planes, was the heaviest in six months. And since they were concentrated below the 19th Parallel, they were the heaviest in the region of the war.

North of Hue, the spokesmen said, paratroopers from the U.S. 101st Airborne Division killed 61 Communists in a three-day sweep through deserted villages held by North Vietnamese. One American was killed and 11 wounded in the fighting, they said.

Civilians Killed

In the Mekong Delta far to the south a mortar shell fired into the heart of the town of My Tho killing six persons and wounding 21 others. Officials said, all but one of those killed and five of the wounded were civilians.

The Friday truck convoy ambush occurred four miles from Khe Sanh on highway 9, the spokesmen said.

They said the 12-vehicle column suffered a "moderate" casualties from the barrage of rocket grenades and machine-gun and rifle fire. The report said they suffered four Leathernecks dead and 22 wounded. Communist casualties were not known.

In the area around Saigon, U.S. 1st Infantry Division troops combing an area 15 miles northwest of the capital Friday found 23 of the rockets, the spokesmen reported.

Nearby, elements of the same division clashed with a guerrilla force and pounded them with artillery fire. The action left 38 Communists killed and American casualties were put at two killed and eight wounded.

The 160 missions flown Friday were the most since Oct. 14, the spokesmen said, and the heaviest one-day attack of the war in the southern panhandle region. U.S fighter-bombers were limited to the panhandle by President Johnson's order partially halting the bombing of North Vietnam.

The Air Force, Navy and Marine jets bombed a wide range of targets that had been obscured by bad weather, the spokesmen said.

The previous high on Oct. 14 was 163 missions and the 1968 high was Thursday when 145 missions were flown.

Communist Ambush

On the ground, a Marine convoy speeding toward the Khe Sanh fortress Friday ran into a Communist ambush, but the Marines blasted their way through and kept the vital supply road open. Near Saigon, U.S. troops found a cache of Viet Cong 122mm rockets of the type used in the new year offensive.

The spokesmen said that although Friday's raids were now limited to the area below the 19th parallel, the 160 missions was about the average number for clear-weather raids throughout all the north. Normally half would be flown above the 19th parallel.

Navy pilots concentrated on targets around the port cities of Dong Hoi and Vinh, the spokesmen said, and they damaged or destroyed 10 bridges, 26 supply boats and 13 trucks.

Radar-guided Air Force F111A jets attacked a highway bridge and ferry complexes northwest of Dong Hoi through an overcast.

Pilots reported that surface-to-air (SAM) missiles were fired at them but none of the planes were reported hit.

Galt-Ray Facts Told

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

James Earl Ray, alias Eric Starvo Galt, who is being sought in the killing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is a man described as a loner. Yet he is known as an avid dancer.

He has been convicted of armed robbery and automobile theft, but less than a year ago he applied for and received a legal license to drive a newly purchased white Mustang.

Ray has lived as far west as California, as far south as New Orleans — and in Memphis Tenn., where on April 4, 1968, King was assassinated.

Here is the most current information available on Ray:

Drescription: Height, 5 feet 10; weight, 163 to 174 pounds. Brown hair. Blue eyes. A small scar on his forehead and right palm. His left ear protrudes further from his head than his right ear does. White male about 40.

Relatives: Born in Alton, Ill., March 10, 1928, son of a laborer of the same name. Hospital records in Fulton, Mo., indicate his parents are deceased but prison records list his mother as Mrs. Lucille Ryan of St. Louis. A brother, Jerry, reportedly has an address of Wheeling, Ill.

Alliases: Two aliases listed on FBI warrant—John Willard and Harvey Lowmyer. Other names used are James McBride, James Walton, W. C. Herron and James O'Connor.

Education: High school dropout in 10th grade.

Military record: Served as an enlisted man in the U.S. Army from February 1946 to December 1948 when he was given a general discharge for ineptness and lack of adaptability. While in the Army he received a three-month sentence at hard labor for being drunk and "breaking" arrest.

Criminal record: In 1949 served eight months in county jail in Los Angeles on a burglary charge. In 1952 convicted in Chicago of armed robbery and served two years in Joliet and Pontiac, Ill., state prisons. In 1955 convicted of forging U.S. postal money orders in Missouri and confined to Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., penitentiary until 1958. In 1960 sent to the Missouri State Penitentiary for a 20-year sentence for armed robbery and car theft in St. Louis and, on April 23, 1967, escaped.

Occupation: Has worked as a baker, laborer and color matcher. On a driver's license application he put "merchant seaman, unemployed." Claimed to have been a cook on a Mississippi riverboat and to have worked in shipyards.

Mental history: Sent for mental observation in connection with a charge of attempted escape from Missouri State Penitentiary. Hospital officials found

WASHINGTON (AP) — Escaped convict James Earl Ray, sought as the sniper slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was placed on the FBI's "most wanted" list today.

The FBI said Friday a systematic search of its vast fingerprint files identified the 40-year-old Ray as phantom fugitive Eric Starvo Galt, charged in Tennessee with murdering King April 4.

The FBI action today added formality to what was already fact—the escapee from the Missouri state penitentiarly is the nation's most intensely hunted man in years.

Ray was described as an avid dancer, a high school dropout, Army reject, a man who likes to drink beer and vodka, and who tugs his ear when he's nervous.

In its first positive identification of the man sought by the FBI since the April 4 assassination of King in Memphis, Tenn., the bureau further pictured Ray as a 40-year-old white man in trouble with the law since his youth—and one who "should be considered armed and extremely dangerous."

Not Caught

There was no indication the FBI was any closer to catching Ray than it was Wednesday when it put the name Galt on a fugitive warrant charging him "and an individual whom he alleged to be his brother" with conspiring to deprive King of his civil right to travel from state to state.

Ray fled the Missouri Penitentiary—where he was serving the seventh year of a 20-year sentence for a 1959 market holdup and auto theft in St. Louis—on April 23, 1967.

DESCRIBES GALT

Tomas Reyes Lau, who taught Eric Starvo Galt bartending in Los Angeles, Calif., is pictured in front of his school. He said the man charged with the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was " very intelligent."

Prison officials, who said a 1966 escape try by Ray was thwarted when he was discovered in a ventilator shaft, indicated he succeeded the next year by hiding in a truck carrying bread from the penitentiary bakery to its honor farms.

The earlier escape attempt landed Ray in a Fulton, Mo. prison hospital facility for a mental checkup.

First Class

"We gave him our Grade A, Class I workup," recalled Dr. Donald B. Peterson, hospital superintendent. "We found no mental disease or defect within the law."

Prison and police records showed Ray was born in Alton, Ill., son of a laborer of the same name.

Records at the Fulton facility indicated both parents were dead, but the penitentiary decords listed his mother as Mrs. Lucille Ryan of St. Louis.

The FBI said Eric Starvo Galt was one of a string of aliases favored by Ray in frequent brush-

Defense Spending Cuts Made

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, voting to require the Pentagon to tighten its belt as has the domestic economy, has approved a $1 billion cut in the procurement authorizatiin sought by the Defense Department.

Partly for economy reasons and partly in protest against policies of former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, the Senate settled Friday for a $21.3 billion authorization bill in place of the $22.385 billion the Pentagon originally asked. The roll call vote sending it to the House was 54 to 3.

The bill, authorizing funds for ships, planes, guns, missiles and military research and development, was originally trimmed to $22 billion by the Senate Armed Services Committee. This was further cut 3 per cent —$660 million—by a 45 to 13 vote after senators rejected a variety of other economy proposals.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., the cutback sponsor, said the 3 per cent figure was the same ratio the Senate used when it recently approved a $6 billion cut in overall federal spending to go along with a 10 per cent income tax increase.

Same Formula Required

"This is the same formula we are going to be required to apply to all other programs if we are going to realize the $6 billion savings," Williams said. "We can make some reductions not only in domestic programs but in military programs."

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., fighting to keep the Armed Services Committee figure intact, stressed that his panel already had reduced the administration's original request by $383 million.

On the final roll call, Sens. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, and Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., voted against the bill.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who was absent, was paired against it. All are critics of U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Four Reach North Pole

THE NORTH POLE (UPI)—Four tired members of a snowmobile expedition are sitting on top of the world.

The team arrived at the North Pole at 4 p.m. EST Friday, completing the first overland journey since Adm. Robert S. Peary and four companions reached the pole in 1909.

"It's a beautiful, clear day. No wind, just a beautiful day in the Arctic," radioed Ralph Plaisted, a St. Paul, Minn., insurance man who headed the first overland trip ever by mechanized transportation.

The adventurers reported a brisk, 23-below-zero temperature at the Pole. But they said it seemed like a warm sreak compared with readings of 50-below during the 474-mile journey from their base camp at Ward Hunt Island in the Northwest Territories.

A group spokesman at Chicago estimated the expedition cost more than $250,000. The group left Montreal Feb. 27 by airplane on the first leg of the 2,900-mile adventure.

Also completing the seven-week snowmobile ride from Ward Hunt Island were Gerald R. Pitzl, an instructor at the University of Minnesota; Jean-Luc Bombardier of Montreal, the lone Canadian among the 10 men who started the trek, and Walter H. Pederson of St. Cloud, Minn.

It was Plaisted's second attempt to ride to the top of the world. He led a similar expedition last year, but the group had to turn back more than 300 miles from the pole when warm weather broke up the ice.

The Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, M.D.

CASE F—548: Tom Z., aged 26, is a Vietnam veteran.

"Dr. Crane," Tom began, "I have followed your column in the Belleville NEWS DEMOCRAT ever since I entered high school.

"And while I was in Vietnam, my mother would clip your column every day and then mail me a full week's supply at a time.

"I passed them around among the other fellows in my company and we'd discuss them.

"But now I am back home where I find my former pals are married. I feel left out of things.

"I have a good job and save $25 per week, but I don't have a chance to meet nice girls.

"So would your Scientific Marriage Foundation be able to introduce me to somebody you think would make me a good wife?"

Computer Dating

After I had lost my first seven secretaries to business and professional men who had written me about their desire to meet a congenial girl, I urged the churches to start an interfaith Scientific Marriage Foundation.

One of its functions would be to introduce congenial men and women of the same religion, attitudes and even hobbies.

Many church denominations were enthusiastic, but there seemed no "ecumenical machinery" to do the job.

So in 1956, prodded by leading clergymen of the Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths, I helped incorporate the Scientific Marriage Foundation as an eleemosynary (charitable) foundation.

It now operates throught the U.S.A. and Canada, aided by 3,000 local priests, rabbis and ministers.

They are our very efficient "grass roots" Counselors, who personally interview each Applicant and then send us a written report.

If the Applicant is suitable for registry with the SMF, the Home Office punches a special IBM card for use on the big "Cupid Computer."

Ten dials are then set on this machine. If a girl thus were found who matched a fellow like Tom on all 10 counts, one being a distance of no more than 200 miles away from Belleville, Tom and this girl would be introduced by leeter and urged to correspond for a few weeks till they learned enough about each other to keep conversation from bogging down after they decided to meet in person.

Thus far, we have only 11 known divorces out of some 10,000 happily married folks.

But beware! No romance or marriage can possibly be promised, for the Home Office crew are just as much at the mercy of that IBM machine as are the Applicants.

And, girls, don't chide me about making romance "mechanical" for the Computer merely serves as a scientific "blind date" agent, but introduces you to apparently compatible people.

The development of the romance is then up to you. The IBM merely places a solid foundation under any romance that you may build thereon by your own charm.

Alas, too, above the age of 50, we have three times as many women Applicants as men, due largely to the laziness and inertia of men about filling out a questionnaire.

But thousands of fellows like Tom are now happily married, thanks to this interfaith, moral organization called the Scientific Marriage Foundation.

If you are interested, send a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, for the booklet and questionnaire about it!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

By Oswald and James Jacoby

East was mighty proud of himself as he entered 200 points on his side of the ledger. He had won the first club and led a second club for South to ruff

South had led a diamond to dummy's king and played the five of hearts. East had gone up with the ace and forced South with another club. South entered dummy with the ace of diamonds and led a heart to his king. This play was made to guard against the unlikely chance that East had started with the singleton ace of hearts.

This was unlikely because West's two no-trump call had been the unusual no-trump to ask for minor suits and he would not have made that bid with four hearts in his hand.

Anyway, South did lead hearts and rose with his king. That gave him five tricks in, and he still made three more trumps to go down one.

As we said before, East was mighty proud of himself. He chortled and said, "It took real courage to double three spades after you had shown a minor suit hand, and I sure defended the hand to the hilt."

South said nothing, but West came to life with a few choice comments. He started with: "There is a close line between courage and bravado. You did double three spades and you did set them one trick. On the other hand you might well have doubled them into game. Furthermore if you had just bid four clubs, the bidding would have been passed around to North. He would probably have doubled. If South left the double in, you might well have made you contract. In any event you would not have gone down more than one trick, but the chances are that South would not have stood for the double. He would have gone on to four spades and you could have doubled that and shown a real profit."

"Furthermore," South added, "There was no hurry about taking your ace of hearts. It wasn't going to get away from you. If you had just ducked, the chances are that South would have played his 10 and you would have collected 500 instead of 200."

Five Die In Lee in 15 Days

SPRINGFIELD — Five traffic fatalities in Lee County whcih occurred between April 1, and April 15, added to Illinois fatalities for the same period which occurred between April 1, reports from the Division of Highways and the Illinois State Police.

"This was a decrease of two per cent form the 85 traffic deaths reported for the same period in Illinois during 1967," Francis S. Lorenz, Illinois public works director, said today.

Thirty-two persons died in 24 traffic accidents involving collisions between two or more vehicles.

An additional 51 fatalities occurred as the result of 47 accidents in which only a single vehicle was involved. Fifteen of those killed were pedestrians, two were bicyclists, and 34 were drivers and passengers of the single vehicles involved, including a motorcyclist.

Two Saturdays and two Sundays duirng the 15-day period accounted for 32 traffic deaths or 39 per cent.

The 1968 provisional death toll through April 15, which now stands at 605, represents a two per cent increase over the 591 traffic deaths reported for the same period during 1967.

Borg-Warner Earnings Are Increased

CHICAGO—Borg-Warner Corporation reported that first quarter earnings increased 13.7 per cent on a sales gain of 8 per cent over the year earlier period.

Chairman Robert S. Ingersoll said earnings rose to $8,990,000, or 48 cents per share, from $7,904,000, or 42 cents, a year ago. Sales climbed to a record $248,489,000, compared with $230,131,000 in 1967.

Sales were up for all major product groups except automotive equipment, which were off slightly because of strikes, Ingersoll told shareholders at the annual meeting. Sales of chemicals and plastics and of air conditioning and refrigeration equipment were significantly higher.

Bell Strike In Third Day

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dial service appeared near normal today as the 42-state telephone strike stretched into its third day, but scattered instances of cable cutting were reported. No formal settlement talks were scheduled until Monday.

Most of the impact of the strike was felt by those who tried to make calls requiring an operator. Delays were encountered in credit card, person-to-person and collect calls.

But officials of the striking Communications Workers of America (CWA) predicted inconveniences would crop up in the automated dial service as equipment broke down without maintenance.

The two struck companies, the Bell Telephone system and Western Electric Co., are subsidiaries of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. In Muncie, Ind., one CWA worker —Mrs. Ruth Clements—was goodnaturedly allowed to cross a picket line manned, among others, by her husband and son.

Child Injured

A 3-year-old Grand Detour child, Todd Haas, today was taken to KSB Hospital where he was reported unconscious and "not responding to treatment," for injuries suffered after a steel door fell on him.

Details of the accident were unavailable, but the child was taken to the hospital by an Allen-Buckley ambulance after the mishap, authorities said.

Young Todd, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Countryman, was being treated in the hospital emergency room at press time.

New Firm Opens Store

For the past three weeks Dixon has had a new, modern furniture store in operation which will begin a grand opening celebration Wednesday.

The company, a newly formed corporation, consists of store manager, Bob Ferrell, 605 Division St., Arthur Benson, owner of the Memri Motel and operator of a refrigeration and heating service, and Juil W. Reeves, 1125 N. Galena Ave., beauty shop operator.

Customers will be offered the latest in furniture styles and a variety of appliances including television sets.

The furniture store will begin its grand opening celebration Wednesday and continue it through May 1. During grand opening celebration days there will be coffee and doughnuts served and balloons for the kiddies.

Dottie Dixon's Diary

Gregory Cavanaugh, 317 W. Morgan St., was promoted to the rank of Private First Class upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recurit Depot, San Diego, Calif. This was a significant achievement as only 10 per cent of the class may be promoted. The remaining Marines must wait until they have completed four months of service before becoming eligible for promotion.

Cavanaugh also fired the highest score in his platoon at the rifle range and has been selected as his platoon's outstanding shooter. He was awarded a certificate and a Leatherneck Medal for this achievement.

His mother, Mrs. Forothy Cavanaugh, received a letter from Lt. Col. E. R. Savor which read in part, "I am sure you will be pleased to learn that your son has made fine progress in training. He has exhibited qualities which indicate a fine upbringing and background during his formative years. We all feel sure he will do well in the Marine Corps and continue to be a source of pride and satisfaction to you, his Corps and his country."

In other politicsl developments:

Indiana—Gov. Roger D. Branigin, campaigning as a favorite son candidate in the state's primary, urged Hoosiers to treat Kennedy and McCarthy "like all tourists...and outlanders" and predicted he would beat both of the Democratic senators in the May 7 primary.

Indiana's Democratic state chairman charges Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy are spending $2 million each for the May 7 primary and says they must be defeated to prove the presidency cannot be purchased.

Ray...

es with the law beginning when he was 21—several years after he dropped out of high school in the 10th grade.

In addition to the aliases John Willard and Harvey Lowmyer listed on the FBI fugitive warrant, the bureau said Ray has also called himself James McBride, James Walton, W. C. Herron and James O'connor.

John Willard was the name used by the man who checked into a shoddy Memphis rooming house overlooking the Lorraine Motel, where King was fatally shot as he stood on a balcony and talked with friends.

Ray was said by authorities to have worked at various times as a laborer, baker and colormatcher. In addition, persons who came in contact with him while he was outside prison said he spoke of having worked as a merchant seaman and riverboat cook.

The FBI said the fugitive's acquaintances called him a loner who likes beer and vodka, favors country and western music and speaks with a rural twang. The loner tag seemed to conflict with the FBI description of him as an "avid dancer."

Another Conflict

In more obvious conflict was the FBI's Wednesday statement saying Galt "took dancing lessons" in New Orleans in 1964 and 1965—a time when Ray was still imprisoned in Missouri.

A bureau spokesman said the earlier Galt description should have said he "reportedly" took the dancing lessons, rather than stating flatly that he had.

The FBI said Ray was first arrested in 1949 in Los Angeles, where he drew an eight-month jail term for burglary.

All told, the records show Ray has spent 13 years and 5 months behind bars—not counting detention on charges of which he wasn't convicted.

Also not included in that total is the three-month stretch at hard labor he received for being drunk and "breaking arrest" while in the Army from February 1946 to December 1948.

Sauk Play Is Planned

"Under Milk Wood," by Dylan Thomas will be presented by Sauk Valley College on next Friday and Saturday, at 8:15 p.m. in the Sterling Coliseum.

In this "play for voices," cast members assume a variety of roles in order to recreate for the audience Thomas' Welsh home and the people he knew so well.

In a letter to his publisher, the playwrite explained the intent of "Under Milk Wood":

"Out of my working . . . came the idea that I write a piece, a play, an impression for voices, an entertainment out of the darkness, of the town I live in, and to write it simply and warmly and comically with lots of movement and varieties of moods, so that, at many levels, through sight and speech, description and dialogue, evocation and parody, you came to know the town. . ."

The cast includes Dennis Gibson and Gail Francis as the narrators and Tim Brunk, Richard Buturff, Trudy Fenwick, Mary Geil, Deana Gothwaite, Ray Knapp, Brian Maxfield, Nicki Melchi, Allan Sincox, Jeani Sprinkle, Barbara Stutzke, Marty Taylor, Pennie von Bergen, John Wheat, John Weil, and Marion Weinman as the townspeople. Jerry W. Mathis, assistant professor of English and speech and director of the fall production of "See How They Run," is the director of "Under Milk Wood," and is assisted by Deana Gothwite and Mary Lewis.

"Under Milk Wood" promises to be a moving and rewarding experience for all area theatregoers.

40 Attend CD Meeting

ROCHELLE — An audience of 40 persons, meeting in the National Bank clubrooms, Thursday night, heard Ralph Morgan of the State Civil Defense, Dixon, speak on nuclear fallout. Morgan spoke of the preparation needed in the case of an attack, and stated that it would mean hard work.

For a town the size of Rochelle, based on an 8,000 population figure, he told his audience that 2,000 volunteer workers would be needed. He stressed the medical self-help program important because "it tells you what to do because the doctor's not going to get there" in case of a disaster.

Auxiliary police and fireman are also of great importance and the ratio should be four men to each regular man in the departments.

Asst. Fire Chief James Combs explained the present fire siren is used up to a duration of one minute at the present time for fires, but thought that a three minute warning would be possible.

Morgan explained a three minute solid blast is used as a universal signal, when heard it means 'something wrong . . . tune in your radio," and urged citizens be trained so they do not call fire or police departments, as this only complicates things.

Morgan throughout his talk stressed the need for citizens to work together in this program and added "this is insurance for your community."

Ghost Camel Riders Over Southwest Desert

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — A ghost camel and its skeleton rider still thunder across the deserts of the Southwest.

It may be only legend, but it's not likely to stop as long as folks out here recall a unique experiemtn by the U.S. Army.

It all began in 1855 when the Army, charged with opening up vast areas of the West, decided to outfit a company of troopers with African camels.

Jefferson Davis, then secretary of war, was the strong supporter of the camel corps idea. He estimated the animals could be imported at $200 each and could carry loads from 300 to 1,500 pounds. He also said the camels could survive with little or no care in the West.

Private capitalists from New York formed a corporation to import the camels and, by 1857, 71 of them were on military posts in Texas, complete with Turkish and Greek attendants, exotic saddles and — a U.S. Navy lieutenant in charge.

On June 25, 1857, the U.S. Army's first and only camel corps, smelly and noisy, moved out of San Antonio bound for California on expedition.

It started out badly.

Letters and diaries of the troopers said only the imported drivers could stay on at full gallop, and everyone got seasick after a few miles.

The camels couldn't keep up with the Army mules and horses. Cavalry horses went wild whenever a camel moved downwind.

In Albuquerque, N.M., the camel drivers discovered Mexican wine. The Navy lieutenant wrote in his report, "I was obliged to administer a copious supply of oil of boot to several (drivers), especially to my Turks and Greeks . . ."

Looked Better

But the lieutenant, Edward Beale, began to grow enthusiastic about his camels as the trip progressed. By the time the caravan clopped into the Zuni Indian village in western New Mexico, he was writing "The camels live on anything and thrive."

Later he wrote, 'Yesterday, they drank water for the first time in 26 hours. Mark the difference between them and mules. The same time in such weather without water would see the latter wild and rendered nearly useless if not entirely broken down."

After Zuni, the camel corps went on to the Colorado River, finally to California and back again. The trip took a year, and Beale wrote:

"A year in the wilderness ended. I have tested the value of the camels, marked a new road to the Pacific and traveled 4,000 miles without an accident."

The journey and its test of camels appeared a success, but back in Washington Congress, minding the purse strings, was questioning a new request by Davis for a thousand more animals. Long arguments began, and finally the whole thing was shelved when the Civil War broke out.

What happened to the camel corps? For a while, the Army couldn't find a way to get rid of the animals. Kept on inventory, they still were being used in 1885 as transport animals by the Army of the West.

A decade later, the animals no longer existed on Army inventories. The few remaining camels had been turned loose in the desert to fend for themselves. Throughout another decade they occasionally were seen by Indians or ranchers. They were usually running by themselves or grazing listlessly around rivers in the West.

The story of the ghost camel with its skeleton rider grew from Indian tales and soon was spread by cowboys and traders.

According to the legend, if anyone approached the ghostly pair, it retreated into an arroyo or escaped over the nearest mesa. One Indian tale had it that the rider was killed in an attack and that he still pursued his killers. Another legend was that a dead man was strapped to a camel in an attempt to decoy Indians away, and his skeleton rode on the camel years later.

Most stories say the last year anyone reported the ghostly beast and its rider was in 1923. But the legend still lives.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I met an attractive woman three months ago. (She was waiting for a bus.) We have been going out regularly, once a week, and I enjoy her company. Yvonne is divorced and has two children which the judge awarded to her husband. She is not allowed to see them, which I find very hard to understand. According to her, the judge gave her a rotten deal.

Some small things about Yvonne bother me and I'd like your views. She refuses to give me her phone number; says she lives in a boarding house where the people are very nosey. She won't let me pick her up at home, and I have never been allowed to see her to the door. Her self-imposed "curfew" is 10 p.m. (She says she had TB years ago and must have a lot of rest.)

I have never met any of her friends or relatives and she will not tell me where she works — says it is "confidential" for the government. What do you make of this?—ALFIE

Dear Alfie: A lady who can't be picked up or taken home, refuses to tell you where she works, won't give you her phone number and has to be in by 10 p.m. is hiding something — like maybe a husband. My advice is to knock off this spooky arrangement.

I hope you make a better selection next time, Alfie, and your chances will be vastly improved if you don't go in for bus stop pickups.

Dear Ann Landers: Please print this for all the stupid girls in the world who are seeing men who are separated but not divorced. Maybe if I had seen a letter like it three years ago I wouldn't be so full of nerve medicine that I can barely write this letter.

In 1965 I fell hard for a man who said I was his dream girl. He and his wife were not getting along and a divorce was in the works. I let him move in with the understanding that we would be married as soon as his dovorce came through. A few months later when his divorce was final he said he wasn't ready to "give up his freedom yet."

Three years have passed and he still isn't ready. He is out four nights a week and I pace the floor smoking and crying. I am 26 years old and broke — I pay most of the bills. My reputation is ruined and my health is shot. I know now he will never marry me but I still love him in spite of everything. If you care to add something to my letter that might help others, please do so. It's too late to help me.—DESTROYED AT 26.

Dear D: I have nothing to add. You've said it all.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for nearly 32 years. We never had any children but we have several nieces and nephews.

The nieces are crazy about Ralph and they come over often. Three of these girls are teenagers. They hop on Uncle Ralph's lap, dance with him and sit close to him on the bench when he plays ragtime jazz on the piano. He loves every minute of it.

One of the nieces announced yesterday, "I'm going to marry a man just like Uncle Ralph." I think such talk is indecent. I told Ralph to cut out the nonsence and that I am sick of seeing him act like a fool. What do you have to say on the subject?—DON'T NEED TROUBLE

Dear Don't: I see nothing indecent about young girls being friendly and affectionate with their uncle — expecially in a group. If this is an example of the way your mind works, you'd better stay away from your nephews.

* * *

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Law, Order Only Edge We Have

The devil is at work in America, and it is up to us to drive him out. Snipers and looters, white or black, deserve no mercy. Those who would profit from their brother's misfortunes deserve no mercy, and those who would set fellow Americans upon each other deserve no mercy.

I'll fight the man who calls me an Uncle Tom. I have broken bread with heads of state, chatted with Presidents, and traveled all over the world. I was born in a ghetto, but I refused to stay there. I am a Negro and proud to be one. I am also an American, and I'm proud of that.

The young people of today think they have a hard lot. They should have been around in the '30s when I was coming up in St. Louis. We had no way to go, but a lot of us made it. I became light heavyweight champion of the world. A neighbor kid down the block, Clark Terry, became one of the most famous jazz musicians in the world. There were doctors, lawyers, and chiefs who came out of that ghetto. One of the top policemen in St. Louis came from our neighborhood.

We made it because we had a goal, and we were willing to work for it. Don't talk to me of your "guaranteed national income." Any fool knows that this is insanity. Do we bring those who worked to get ahead down to the level of those who never gave a damn? The world owes NOBODY — black or mhite — a living. God helps the man who helps himself!

Now then, don't get the idea that I didn't grow up hating the injusices of this world. I am a stanch advocate of the Negro revolution for the good of mankind. I've seen almost unbelievable progress made in the last handful of years. Do we want to become wild beasts bent only on revenge, looting and killing and laying America bare? Hate is bait, bait for the simple minded.

Sure, I despised the whites who cheated me, but I used that feeling to make me push on. If you listen to the professional rabble-rousers, adhere to this idea of giving up everything you've gained in order to revenge yourself for the wrongs that were done to you in the past — then you'd better watch your neighbor, because he'll be looting your house next. Law and order is the only edge we have. No man is an island.

Granted, the Negro still has a long way to go to gain a fair shake with the white man in this country. But believe this: If we resort to lawlessness, the only thing we can hope for is civil war, untold bloodshed, and the end of our dreams.

We have to have a meeting of qualified men of both races. Mind you, I said qualified men, not some punk kid, ranting the catch phrases put in his mouth by some paid hate-monger. . . .

There are members of the black community who call for a separate nation within America. Well, I do not intend to give up one square inch of America, I'm not going to be told I must live in a restricted area. Isn't that what we've all been fighting to overcome?

And then there is the element that calls for a return to Africa.

For my part, Africa is a great place to visit, but I wouldn't want to live there. If the Irishmen want to go back to the Emerald Isle, let them. If the Slavs want to return to the iron curtain area. O.K. by me. But I'm not going to go to any part of Africa to live. I'm proud of my ancestry and of the country that spawned my forefathers, but I'm not giving up my country. I fought all my life to give my children what I'm able to give them today: a chance for development as citizens in the greatest country in the world.

I do not for a moment think that any truly responsible Negro wants anarchy. I don't think you'll find intelligent — no, let's rephrase that — mature Negroes running wild in the streets or sniping at total strangers. God made the white man as well as the black. True, we haven't acted as brothers in the past, but we are brothers. If we're to be so many Cains and Abels, that's our choice. We can't blame God for it.

Something must be done to reach the Negroes and the whites in the ghettos of this country, and I propose to do something.

As a matter of plain fact, I have been doing something for the last several years. I have been running a program which I call the A. B. C. — Any Boy Can. By teaching our youth, black, white, yellow and red, what dignity is, what self-respect is, what honor is, I have been able to obliterate juvenile delinquency in several areas.

I would now expand my program, change scope. If any boy can, surely any man can. I want to take teams of qualified people, top men in their fields, to the troubled areas of our cities. I know that the people who participated in the recent riots, who are participating, and who will participate, are misguided rather than mad.

If some bigot can misguide, then I can guide. I've spent too much of my life building what I've got to put it to torch just to satisfy some ancient hatred of a man who beat my grandfather. Those men are long dead. Do we have to choke what could be a beautiful garden with weeds of hate? I say NO! And I stand ready to start Operation Gardener. I invite the respected Negro leaders of our country to join me.

Voice of The People

Each year thousands of college students head for Florida on their Easter vacation in search of fun and release from the demands of college and our society in general.

However, after the first couple of days, the novelty wears off and the search begins again.

A deeper problem in the minds of these students and many others in our society today is the search for purpose and meaning in life.

I was in Daytona Beach with a group of about 1,000 other college students who are involved in a movement known as Campus Crusade for Christ International.

Campus Crusade is an interdenominational group whose only emphasis is on the person of Jesus Christ and His relevancy in our lives today.

Our reason for going to Florida was to talk to students on the beaches about having a personal relationship with Christ and having the purpose and meaning in life that He has promised.

Due to their increased independency, college students question many of the principles they had merely accepted as a child and grown up believeing in.

Christianity is one of these principles.

Many people have come to think of Christ as an impersonal deity Who is too concerned with world problems to be bothered with their individual troubles, and this may be why people have turned away from Christianity as a way of life.

People have become so bogged down with church doctrine that they have forgotten the basic principle — the person of Jesus Christ and His love for us today.

Christ's love for us and the plan He has for giving each of us a truly abundant life if we will just trust in him was what we talked to students about in Daytona.

Students have questioning minds, and they are searching for answers.

These students knew there was something missing in their lives, and they were willing to seriously consider anything that might help.

Many of them discovered last week that Christ is the answer.

It was tremendous to see the way the Lord helped each of the Crusade students to grow in their relationship to Him and how He taught each of us to have a sincere love for others and have a real desire to help others come to know Him as a personal Saviour.

So this is how it was for another group that went to Daytona.

Betty Canary

Wouldn't you know it would happen? I had just finished writing about lesiure time when what to my wondering eyes should appear but an article setting forth a new idea on how to save me even more time.

In order to collect this leisure time I would have to move to Atlanta, however. And, I wouldn't know when I was going to get the time either, what with the way things are. I mean, since I don't know anybody in Atlanta, I'd have to make lots of freinds and then wait around until they died.

The report is that the management of an undertaking establishment there is thinking about installing drive-in facilities.

The idea is that, when my dear old friend Emma dies, I won't be put to much trouble. I won't even have to get dressed but can go in curlers and bathrobe and drive through the parking lot because there Emma is, in window No. 3, "the coffin slightly tipped for better viewing."

I always knew Emma was a real friend! She has arranged to lie in state in a manner calculated not to disrupt my daily routine. I can drive by and look at her in her public showcase and then get on with the grocery shopping and the ironing and all the really important stuff.

It will save me from listening to those trite remarks one hears at funeral parlors also. For one thing, nobody is going to say, "Emma looks so natural!" because obviously she does not. I knew Emma and she just wasn't the type who went around lying in store windows.

I do think this innovation might produce some problems. Some sort of protocol will have to be established with decisions being made as to whose body can occupy window No. 1 and whose will be consigned to that window around the corner. Then, since the family will no longer find it necessary to be inside the building to greet old friends, maybe some sort of reception stations will be put in at the end of the driveway.

A moving sidewalk for those not owning automobiles would be necessary and perhaps little wire baskets like those used on expressways could be installed. Instead of flowers, you just toss in a contribution as you exit. Maybe you pick up a bumper sticker on your way out.

Snowberger-Myers Vows

MR. AND MRS. GARY MYERS

MOUNT MORRIS—Rev. Warren Hoover officiated when marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Ruby Snowberger and Gary Myers at 9:30 a.m. March 31 in the Church of the Brethren.

The bride, daughter of the Mark Snowbergers, Deering, N.D., and a graduate of Deering High School and Minot College of Business, Minot, N.D., was employed at the Mount Morris Family Clinic prior to her marriage.

Mr. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Myers, Atwater, Ohio, is a former employe of Pinecrest Manor.

Nuptial music for the double-ring ceremony was provided by the church chancel choir, accompanied by Wendell Carr, organist.

For her wedding, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white nylon and lace over silk taffeta. Lace inserts accented the gown's chapel train, and a floral headpiece held her veil of illusion tiers. As she was escorted to the altar by her father, she carried a Bible covered with lace and satin and topped by a white rose corsage.

Richard Myers acted as his brother's best man, and the bride's maid of honor, Miss Cindy Gilber, Reading, Pa., an employe of Pinecrest Manor, was attired in a pastel blue lace dress. Blue-tinted roses and foliage were combined in the bouquet she carried.

A royal blue hat and white accessories complemented the off-white lace dress worn by Mrs. Snowberger for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother chose a deep pink frock and pastel pink accessories.

Preceding their departure for their new home in Akron, Ohio, the newlyweds were honored at a 2 p.m. reception in the church when out-of-town guests were from Deering and Surrey, N.D.; New Paris, Ind., and Atwater, Ohio.

CROCUS — SINGS OF SPRING

Crocus is a very early flower that is grown in gardens in most parts of the world. They bloom and wither weeks before it is time to cut the grass. They are inexpensive and easy to grow.

The crocus is an ancient flower and many stories appear in Greek mythology about this tiny member of the lily family. The plant also produces a substance called saffron, which was used as a stimulant in medicines — also it was used as a coloring in cakes and candies.

Flowers can be yours the year around. We keep them in an abundant supply at all times. We are close as your telephone, call 288-1641.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Magistrate E. A. Barbour dismissed a vagrancy charge Wednesday against Jesse Eugene Gonce, 31, of Harrison, Ark., and recalled he was financially 'hard up" once.

'You can't arrest a man just for being broke," Barbour said. "I remember once in Jefferson City I was out of money and I hitchhiked to Lebanon.

"I was a state senator then, incidentally," the judge said.

Willie Mays Moves Giants

By United Press International

The late Roger Hornsby always used to like to scorn the modern-day player, an attitude summed up in his celebrated remark about Roger Maris, "he couldn't carry my bat."

But Mays, showing up the critics who said he was getting too old to be a star after he slumped to .263 last season, could carry anybody's bat. Even though he'll be 37 on May 6, he still makes the Giants go—just like he did 17 years ago when the club was in New York.

For the second straight game, Mays batted in the tie-breaking run Friday night to lead San Francisco to a triumph. His eighth-inning single snapped a 2-2 deadlock and the Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 as Jim Ray Hart followed with a two-run homer.

On Thursday, Mays's bases-loaded double drove in three seventh-inning runs and beat the New York Mets 5-3. Those three RBIs moved him past Hornsby into tenth place on the all-time RBI list with 1,582.

The RBI Friday night made it 1,583—and the triple he collected in the first inning was the 1,118th extra base hit of his career, moving him ahead of Ted Williams into sixth place on the all-time extra base hit list.

Mays is now hitting .414 this spring with eight RBIs.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles edged New York 3-2, Philadelphia beat Houston 2-1, Atlanta blanked Cincinnati 3-0, and St. Louis clubbed Chicago 9-2.

In the American League, Boston whipped Cleveland 9-2, California beat Baltimore 2-1 in 10 innings and Washington blanked Oakland 3-0. The Detroit at Chicago game was postponed because of bad weather.

As usual, Mays was quite casual about passing Hornsby and Williams in successive days.

St. Louis found its hitting touch again, battering Chicago as Dick Simpson and Orlando Cepeda hit two-run homers and Lou Brock chipped in with a two run triple.

Chris Short pitched a three-hitter and Richie Allen and Bobby Wine hit homers as the Phillies topped the Astros. Dave Giusti suffered the loss.

Atlanta beat Cincinnati as Hank Aaron hit a two-run homer and Sandy Valdespino added a solo blast for the Braves off Red starter John Tsitouris, who took the loss.

Claude Osteen pitched a six-hitter as Los Angeles edged New York. Jim Lefebvre doubled in one run and Rocky Colavito drove in a second with an infield hit to win the game in the eighth inning.

Baseball In Dixon

DIXON — Earlier this week, the Dixon Jaycees distributed cards and letters to the youngsters of baseball ages. These cards are to be filled out and returned to the childs home room as soon as possible.

Frank Baracani, Program director for the Jaycees, indicated that a few sponsors are still needed for the teams that will be playing this summer.

Baracani also stated that all sponsors of last season would be contacted, but still a few additional ones are needed because of the increasing number of boys that wish to play summer baseball here in Dixon. Anyone interested in sponsoring a team this summer can contact Frank between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at 288-2713.

A few rules and regulations are needed to keep the league accurate. Here are a few of those rules.

Any 7 year old boy who celebrates his 8th birthday on or before July 31st, 1968 is eligible to register.

All boys 8 through 16 years of age, who are still 16 years old on July 31st, 1968, are eligible to register.

State the exact date of birth and their exact age as of the day they fill out their card. Ask their parents to help fill out the card.

Return the card to the Room Teacher as soon as it is filled out.

Even if they are undecided now, fill out the card and turn it in. Absolutely no cards will be accepted after May 13, 1968.

Riessen Advances

Dodger Rookies Need A Schedule of Games

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—The midnight ride of Paul Revere was nothing.

Ask two of the Dodger rookies about their mad mid-day ride on the subway here Friday. Now that was something.

The rookies are Jim Fairey, a 22-year-old outfielder from Orangeburg, S.C., and Mike Kekich, a 23-year-old pitcher from San Diego.

The two rooks room together. Both have fine futures ahead. Both are said to have everything except one item. A schedule. That's right. A common every day National League schedule. The kind they give away in banks, supermarkets, ball parks and the like. But that's getting ahead of the story.

The Dodgers had an off day Thursday and after polishing off a nice dinner, Fairey and Kikich both returned to the midtown hotel where the club stays here. They asked the clerk at the desk for the key to room 1041 and took the elevator up to that floor.

Both were feeling good. Kekich still was savoring his first major league victory which came at the Phillies' expense on Tuesday and Fairey had a hunch he'd get a chance to start in left field against the Mets at Shea Stadium Friday. That might not sound like such a big deal to you but it was to Fairey, who has started only one major league game before.

Kekich and Fairey entered their room at approximately 9:30 p.m. Thursday and made themselves comfortable. Why not? They didn't have much to worry about.

There was a night game with the Mets Friday, they figured, so they could sleep late the next day. Besides, there was something good on the late, late show.

They were showing Clark Gable in "San Francisco" and it was so good Kekich and Fairey didn't turn it off until 2 a.m. They said good-night and went to sleep.

The next thing they heard was the phone ringing. The time was 12:55 p.m. Friday and the party at the other end was Nobe Kawano, the Dodgers' clubhouse man who was calling from Shea Stadium. Lefty Phillips, the Dodgers' acting manager had instructed Kawano to call the two rookies.

"Hello," said the sleepy-voiced Fairey.

"W're gonna hit in a few minutes," said Kawano, meaning the Dodgers were getting ready to take batting practice. It was only one hour before game time.

"You're kidding," gurgled the panic-stricken rookie. "We thought it was a night game."

"I'm not kidding," replied Kawano, who never does. "Better grab the subway. It's the fastest way to get down here."

You never saw clothes fly around so fast as they did in room 1041 at 12:57 p.m. Friday.

Meanwhile, things were also happening at Shea Stadium.

Phillips had written in Fairey's name on his original lineup card. Fairey was playing left field and batting seventh and that's the way they put it up on the big board in right center field.

But now they were taking his number down. They put up Rocky Colavito's instead and it was Colavito who played left field, not Fairey.

Exactly at 1:46 p.m. Fairey and Kekich rushed in, perspiring and out of breath. They had their street clothes off in 28 seconds flat.

"Oh, man, wotta subway ride," puffed Fairey. "This is my fourth year in pro ball and nothing like this has ever happened to me before. Mike and I thought it was a night game. Honest we did."

"You mean you're just getting here now," kidded Willie Davis, walking into the clubhouse from the field.

"Yeah, yeah," said the harried Fairey, struggling into his uniform.

"And now," said coach Danny Ozark, "you're standing around giving out interviews?"

"No, no," said Fairey, looking around for his cap.

"We just overslept," the young outfielder tried to explain. "We thought it was a night game."

"Why did you think of that?" someone asked him.

"Well, we play them (the Mets) a doubleheader Sunday and we just figured when that's the case, we play a night game on Friday."

Now you know all about Fairey and Kekich.

They're a pair of rookies who look like they've got everything. Except a schedule.

Boston Celtics Top Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Boston Celtics made history Friday night by rallying from a 3-1 deficit to win the Eastern Division playoff title of the National Basketball Association with a 100-96 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers.

It had never been done before: no other team had ever gone from a 3-1 series deficit to the division crown.

The Celtics turned the trick by winning the last three games against last year's world champion 76ers.

"They had everything to lose and we had nothing to lose," Boston's Sam Jones said of the 76ers.

In the Philadelphia dressing room after the game, Wilt Chamberlain put it another way: "breaks can make a big difference and Boston made its own breaks."

The 7-foot-1 superstar was the center of attraction for Boston's defense. In the second half he was so well-guarded that he had the opportunity to take only one shot. "It was just the way the game went," Wilt explained.

Philadelphia coach Alex Hannum called it a "hard-fought game." Hannum also gave credit where credit was due." You must give credit to their defense," he said.

The Celtics also took advantage of a glass-edged offense. Boston cashed in on five free throws in the final two minutes to take the crown.

Boston came through in the stretch when John Havlicek scored a field goal with 4:41 remaining to give the Celtics an 89-88 edge. Clutch scoring by Sam Jones, Bailey Howell, Havlicek and Don Nelson enabled Boston to stave off every Philadelphia threat.

Jones got two free throws with 1:53 left to make it 97-92 but Philadelphia wouldn't quit and the 76ers inched up to 97-95 with 1:15 left.

With 34 seconds to go, player-coach Bill Russell added a foul shot and Jones cashed in another pair for the Celtics with 10 seconds remaining to clinch the victory.

The Celtics now move into the championship round against the Los Angeles Lakers, winners of the Western Division title.

WYOMING—The Walnut Raider track team won a triangular meet Thursday evening, when they defeated Galva and Wyoming at Wyoming.

The Raiders were able to cop five first place finishes en route to their victory, but their team balance in scoring those important second and third places proved to be the major difference in victory rather than defeat.

Ganschow proved to be the only double winner for the Blue Raiders as he copped first place finishes in both the mile run and the high jump.

Kepner and Lubbs split the hurdle events between them, as Kepner placed first in the low hurdle event, while Lubbs won the high hurdles.

The 880 relay team from Walnut composed of Gonigam, Kepner, Atberton and Lubbs were the only other first place finishers for the Raiders.

AP Reviews Past Week

A wave of violence swept through West Germany during the Easter weekend, leaving two persons dead and some 600 student protestors arrested. The unrest was touched off when an assassin gravely wounded the leftist student leader, Rudi Dutschke. Chief target of the radical student organization, the Socialist German Student Federation, has been the Springer Publishing Co., Germany's largest newspaper publisher. The students claim a Springer newspapers' campaign against them and their aims created an atmosphere that led to the assassination attempt against Dutschke.

Twelve days after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., negotiators agreed to end the strike of Memphis city garbage collectors. It was the strike which brought King to the city, where he was shot to death April 4. The union member, 98 per cent of them Negroes, unanimously accepted the proposed agreement, which includes an hourly wage boost of 15 cents over six months.

The Soviet Union rocketed two unmanned Sputniks into space and automatically linked them in orbit. The Sputniks circled together for nearly four hours and then separated. The linkup Monday came amid indications that the Russians will be ready to make their first manned space flight since cosmonaut Vladimir M. Komarov died in a space crash last April 24.

Edna Ferber, Pulitzer Prize - winning novelist who wrote "So Big," "Show Boat," "Cimarron" and "Giant," among others, died in her New York home Tuesday at age 82. Klaus Frings, 32-year-old Associated Press phorographer, died from a head injury he received Monday night while covering a student riot in Munich.

Fay Bainter, Actress who won an Oscar for her supporting role in "Jezebel" in 1938, died in Hollywood on Tuesday at age 74.
